

Tonga containerized power generation sales

Overview

Currently, around 91 per cent of Tonga's electricity is generated from diesel-powered systems, most of which are shipped to outer islands at great logistical cost. This reliance has left the Kingdom vulnerable to fluctuating global oil prices, foreign exchange pressures, and supply. Tonga is making tangible progress toward its renewable energy targets with the rollout of solar-powered mini-grid systems across its outer islands, in a bold move to reduce its dependence on expensive diesel imports and improve electricity access for remote communities. Reduction in Diesel Consumption: With the introduction of the solar grid system, diesel consumption has significantly declined, as shown on the July 22 - Jun 23 period. Total.
