

Weather hail photovoltaic panels

Overview

The short answer is yes, hail can damage solar panels, but modern photovoltaic systems are engineered to withstand most hailstorms with remarkable resilience. In areas that have experienced very large hail (greater than 1 ¾" or 44 mm diameter), however, hail has caused significant damage to PV modules. Some measures can be taken to limit damage to. Glass thickness is the critical protection factor: Research confirms that 4mm glass panels significantly outperform the standard 3.2mm thickness, with thicker glass successfully reducing or nullifying hail damage that destroys thinner alternatives. Even hail is usually not enough to damage your solar panels.
